of the Japanese Is Said

OO, July 11.—The Port Novt Kral of July 7, a copy has just reached chefoo, con-account of the operations Port Arthur from July 3 to July fighting has occurred between of defenses and the Japa-
The results are not announced, less a little at a time, the facts known. Our side sent ascertain the position and of the enemy, and whether protected by trenches. It seems to find out the exact of the Japanese, but they do less than 30,000 men. They credit them with 60,000. Thirty men are not sufficient for against a fortress like this, they expect assistance.

Three Days' Fighting.
three days fighting, the posithe two armies are as follows:
left flank we retained the posi-originally occupied. The for-right flank back previous to a rectified and we have both of Semaphore hills in our hands. of these hills we were not op-able distance. Of course, all not won without losses, some will strike the hearts of our men.

the three days' battle the a fleet of gunboats left the ally, covering the right flank of and stopping the fire of the artillery. On July 4 the Novik batteries and did frightful

ARMY ADVANCES.

Correspondents Permitted
Soldiers for First Time.
KUROKI'S HEADQUARuesday, June 28, via Ping y 10, via Seoul, July 11.— st time during the war, news-respondents and military at-ve been permitted to accom-Japanese troops on an advance f remaining behind with the ers of Gen. Kuroki. Almost respondents are now attached of the division Generals, ugh they are not on the firing now witness the operations over range than heretofore.
Gen. Ian Hamilton, one of the attaches, travels with Gen.
Col. Hume, another British and Col. E. H. Crowder of the staff of the American army, are th the western column, while C. March of the artillery corps, is to travel with the eastern ntry through which the army ing is a succession of ranges wooded hills with narrow valleens them. The valleys are corn and beans and are trav-many streams. The roads are and rocky. There are many sea and the engineers were reso much road building. a Tien pass consisted of two of East Siberian infantry, guns, and an outpost of 200 There was a succession of ves, each surrounded by a ose upon which had been pen-name of the buried, marking the Russian retreat. was oppressively hot and the the Peking road camped in sandy fields. The soldiers shelters of boughs and corn stems they suffered much from in, and the army was soaked four hours. There were few tents, and the men huddled under trees or built shelters on the banks of the river, but most of them slept in the fields with little to protect them from the rain.

Today, Tuesday, it is still raining, but the army is again on the march. The men, dripping wet, are plodding steadily through the deep mud.
Neither sun nor rain affects the ardor of the Japanese soldiers, who are in fine condition, confident of victory, and keen to meet the enemy. The men are wonderfully hardy, and there is remarkably little straggling or dropping out of line.
The Chinese in this region complain that the Russians confiscated all their grain and provisions, and they are now helping the Japanese in all possible ways.

WILL MAKE EFFORT.

Russians Are Determined to Hold Ta Tche Kiao.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 11.—Gen.
Kuropatkin, according to private advices from the front, will not make a serious attempt to hold Ta Tche Kiao, above Kai Chou, midway between that place and Hai Cheng and where the railroad connects with the branch from Newchwang. Developments of the Japanese strength on the Su Yen roads seem to be forcing a Russian concentration between Hai Cheng and Liao Yang, but preparations seem to be making to defend the former as long as possible.
Gen. Count Keller's force, which was a little southwest of Liao Yang, has apparently moved farther southward, to stay the advance of the Japanese direct from the Feng Wang Cheng-Hai Cheng road.
The pressure on the Russian left rear as it withdraws continues. There is now seemingly practically nothing in the way of a Japanese occupation of Newchwang and the completion of the Japanese line across the head of the Liao Tung peninsula. The fortification of the passes of Fen Shui range and semi-circle eastward of Liao Yang is reported.

BLESSED BY THE CZAR.

Impressive Scene at Review of Troops at Kolomna.

MOSCOW, July 11.—The Emperor's second journey to south Russia to speed the departing troops has thus far been attended by demonstrations similar to those made during his first tour.
At Kolomna, after holding a review, the Emperor addressed the troops, expressing his assurance that they would maintain the honor of the Russian arms. An impressive scene followed.
The Emperor, who was mounted, raised aloft an Ikon and the officers and men sank to their knees, while his Majesty made the sign of the cross with the Ikon above their bowed heads and said a blessing of himself and the Emperor upon them.
A deputation of workmen from the mechanical works, through their spokesman, addressed the Emperor thus:
"Little Father: We are happy to see you take such a personal interest in the soldiers and we workmen are ready to enter the ranks and shed our blood for the Emperor and the fatherland. We are ready to accept bread and salt on behalf of your loyal subjects, the workmen."

MAY LAND AT YIN KOW.

Japanese Vessels Keeping in Touch With Advance on Land.

YIN KOW, July 11.—Japanese vessels have been seen off Kaichou. It is believed they are keeping in touch with the advance of the land forces, and that if the Japanese take Ta Tche Kiao, which is thought to be their objective, it is believed that a landing will be made simultaneously at Yin Kow.
The Japanese began to push their advance north at dawn on July 9, after taking Kaichou, and since then they have proceeded steadily. They kept their artillery well to the front and shelled and occupied Pintan seven miles north of Kaichou, at noon July 9. It is now reported that they are in close touch with Ta Tche Kiao.
Japanese scouts are close to Yin Kow.
They can be seen on the neighboring hillsides from which they occasionally fire on the Russian outposts.

THEORETIC INVASIONS.

Story of London Express Causes No Excitement.

LONDON, July 11.—The attempt of the London Daily Express to revive the boogy of a possible Russian invasion of India, by the publication of an alleged secret plan of campaign prepared by Gen. Kuropatkin, as cabled to the Associated Press early this morning, has not created a ripple of excitement.
Even if the document is authentic, it is recognized that it will not give the slightest cause for alarm. It is pointed out that the whole scheme as published is of so academic a character that there is nothing in the nature of a direct menace therein. Probably the pigeonholes of all the war offices in Europe are filled with similar plans, providing for theoretic invasions of their next door neighbor's territory.

FIGHT OFF PORT ARTHUR.

Japanese Torpedo Boats Attack a Russian Squadron.

TOKIO, July 11.—The Russian cruisers Bayan, Diana, Pallada and Novik, two gunboats and seven torpedo boat destroyers came out of the harbor of Port Arthur on Saturday morning, July 9, preceded by a number of steamers engaged in clearing away mines. In the afternoon the Russian vessels reached a point between Sensakaku and Lunwantang, where they were attacked by a Japanese flotilla of torpedo boats and torpedo boat destroyers. Fire was exchanged with the Bayan. At 4 in the afternoon the Russian vessels retreated to the harbor.
Admiral Togo reports that the Japanese vessels had one cabin boy slightly wounded. The vessels themselves sustained no damage.

COCKRAN WILL NOT BOLT

New Yorker Will Stand by Parker.

Telegram From Presidential Nominee, He Says, Clears Up Atmosphere.

Tammany Leader Out in a Letter Recanting Statement Made in St. Louis.

NEW YORK, July 11.—The Associated Press received the following communication from Bourke Cockran, dated Indianapolis, July 10, explaining his declination to address the national Democratic convention at St. Louis:
"I left St. Louis yesterday at 12:45 o'clock because, as matters then stood, I did not want to be in the convention when nominations for Vice-President were reached.

"Calls for me to make a speech, which had been made repeatedly on prior days, would very likely be renewed at the final session, and at the time I could not truthfully assure the convention that Judge Parker had, in my opinion, the faintest prospect of success.

Could Not Prophecy Victory.

"I have made it a rule never to say on a public platform anything which I could not repeat in the witness chair.
I could not prophecy victory, and I would not foretell defeat. Silence was therefore the only course open, and the best way to pursue it was by my absence.

"When I reached Indianapolis I was handed a telegram from Charles F.
Murphy, informing me of Judge Parker's message to Mr. Sheehan, and urging me to return immediately.

Leader Was Needed.

"In an instant the whole situation was changed. The prospect which had been black with signs of disaster at once became splendid with promises of victory. For many months I had been preaching that the success of the Democratic party this year involved the continuation of constitutional government in this country. This view was expressed in the resolution submitted to the State convention last April by the Tammany members, and I think it is shared by every thoughtful man in the country. The one thing absolutely essential to Democratic success is a leader.

Objections to Cleveland.

"Until now no one possessing anything like ability was conspicuous, except Mr. Cleveland. To him there were weighty objections. His age is advanced. Many politicians believe there is a widespread objection to giving any man, however wise or virtuous, more than two terms in the Presidency. The antagonisms which he has provoked are numerous and bitter. Still his running qualities were so excellent that the delegates from the old city of New York urged his nomination as the only one that furnished the slightest hope even of an exciting contest.

Money Question Relegated.

"To bring this about and to secure an unequivocal acknowledgment that the money question was settled were the two objects toward which the Tammany delegation concentrated the efforts of their members. The first of these was wholly impossible. To accomplish the second we felt that it was only necessary to have the delegates from doubtful States demand the reference to the money question.
"At the New York delegation on Tuesday morning a resolution to this effect offered by me was suppressed by a parliamentary maneuver. After it had been agreed by the delegates to eliminate all reference to the money question, I again moved that the New York delegation offer as an amendment in the convention the financial plank submitted by Senator Hill to the committee on resolutions, but the motion was rejected by a vote of 50 to 23 of the delegates.

Parker Without Record.

"Under these circumstances the nomination of Judge Parker, who was without any record on the coinage question, except that he had voted twice for Mr.
Bryan, seemed to preclude the slightest hope that he would receive even as many electoral votes as Mr. Bryan polled in 1900. But the very pusillanimity of his managers, which led them to surrender their own convictions and every attempt of the New York City delegates to voice the opinions of their constituents on this important question, furnished Judge Parker with an opportunity which he has improved decisively.

What Is Revealed.

"It has revealed him to the people of this country almost in an instant as a great leader, the greatest of this generation; an honest man—the most impressive in displaying that virtue that I have ever known either through experience of reading; a courageous man—of such incomparable courage that he was willing to throw away not merely the hope of prospect of a nomination, but an actual nomination to the Presidency rather than stoop to an evasion or equivocation on a matter of principle.

Why He Returned.

"I, who had left St. Louis before the final adjournment as the only way to avoid being placed in a position where I must have told the convention that Judge Parker could not, in my opinion, escape crushing defeat, on the receipt of Mr.
Murphy's message at once ordered a special train and hastened back, because I then felt free to tell the members, if they desired to hear from me, that on the new platform which he himself had made he would be overwhelmingly elected.

Arrived Too Late.

"When my train arrived at 4 o'clock in the morning the convention had completed its work, but if I had been present I could not have made a single suggestion which would have made an improvement on its course. Indeed, the admirable temper displayed by the delegates at first might have been considered themselves belit-tled or aggrieved by the singularly independent course of their candidate in one of the most suspicious features under which the campaign opened."

KILLED BY BASEBALL.

Pitcher for Providence Club Meets Death in Box.

PHILADELPHIA, July 11.—Unconscious as a result of having been struck on the head by a baseball on Saturday, H. Williamson, 23 years old, of Providence, Md., lies at the point of death in the University hospital, while his bride of two weeks waits in anguish beside his cot. The physicians say that he is suffering from a compression of the brain.
Williamson was a pitcher of the Providence baseball team, and was in the box in a game with the Cherry Hill team, at Cherry Hill, Md. While at the bat he was struck on the head by a swift ball. Mrs. Williamson, who is only 16 years old, was a witness of the accident. Williamson died this afternoon.

MRS. MYERS ARRAIGNED.

Woman Accused of Slaying Husband
Pleads Not Guilty.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 11.—Mrs.

band, Clarence Myers, a pressman, who was stabbed to death in a midnight pleaded not guilty and was remanded to jail to await trial.

Frank Hottman, who was arrested at Walla Walla, Wash., recently on a charge of complicity in the murder, and who is alleged to have confessed, implicating Mrs. Myers, is now being
